THE MAKING OF A NEWS EVENT

(By BILL SMILEY)

Next time somebody in the club or other organization you belong to asks if you'd handle the publicity for some event that's côming up, take my advice and respond with a ring-ing "NO."

That's the way they always pit it: "Handle the publicity."

Casual, Nothing to it. You just "handle" it.

Well, I'm sitting here in my underwear trying to write a Sasual. Nothing to it. You just 'handle' it.

Well, I'm sitting here in my underwear trying, to write a column, because I've just finished a two-week stint of 'handling' the publicity and I'm soaking wet from the waist up. Why? Because I'm just home after galloping up and down the main street begging merchants to put posters in their windows. I should have known better. I got my baptism quite a few years ago when I took on the publicity chores for an election campaign. And I've been myolved in three elections since, each time emerging in the same continue emerging in th teaching English and went into advertising, a fate worse than the county raising money. And I beat my brains to the bone writing speeches and news releases and advertisements.

Hardly anybody pays any attention to the platforms of the various parties, so you have to sell the man. And there are only so many ways of saying. Our guy is better than their guy.

You say your guy has more children than their guy and the former is active in church work. The opposition counters by pointing out their guy's experience and claiming he issue and the same on the grounds that there is no evidence your guy has anything worth listening to in public. And so on.

Then there are the advertisements.

The there are the advertisements we had ten weekles and a daily paper involved, plus two radio, stations. And we never rade chough money. So, every adhad to be small but packed with power. Try this sometime. Try getting across a vital message in a thirty-second commertial.

Oh well, it was sort of fun at the task the troops of the tent was the task that there is no evidence that there is no evidence your guy has anything worth listening to in public world stations. And we never rade chough money. So, every adhad to be small but packed with power. Try this sometime. Try getting across a vital message in a thirty-second commertial.

Individually, we'll give you great service. Together, we'll give you great prices.

Decisions, decisions.

Usually, if you want to pay less for your drug items, you go to a big chain. And forget about friendly, personal service.

And if you want great service, you go to a store that's owned by the man who runs it. But you may pay more.

And that's why Guardian Drug stores are so special.

Each Guardian store is owned by the pharmacist who runs it. So.he's right there to fuss about friendliness, service, fresh goods and good selection.

But together, over 100 Guardian Drug stores enjoy big volume discounts on drug store products.

Just like any other big chain does.

So at Guardian, you'll find every day prices that are a few cents lower (or a few cents higher) than the lowest 'discount" store in town.

And the biggest smiles, too.

There are over 100 Guardian Pharmacists with fresh goods, good selection, low prices, bright stores and big hearts.

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(but not necessarily)

My apologies to Mrs. Florence McCoy and the Madoc Town-ship basketball players and coaches for neglecting to mention that their Junior Girls and Boys won their respective basketball tournaments recently. Further apologies for the pictures of the teams that didn't turn gut because of accidental exposure before developing. Hope to rectify this before next week.

The Ladies' Softball League will be operating again this year

The Ladies' Softball League will be operating again this year with the same four teams - Madoc, Cooper, Foxboro and Spring-brook. Same teams but some new faces.

The schedule will begin the first week of July. The brand of settball is improving and there is always plenty of action. So give the team of your choice the support they deserve. You won't be disappointed when it comes to entertaining softball.

Madoc will be playing their home games on Tuesday nights while Cooper has selected Tuesday or Thursday nights as their home nights.

Listening to a post-game interview with one of the Expo pitchers after a recent Expo win, I couldn't help but admire one of the statements from that interview that summed up the Expo's early success — "All the guys on this team are "pulling" for all the other guys to do their best". With that kind of pholosophy I think the Expos are in for their best season to date.

Pulling together is at least heading in the same direction. One can see the same philosophy in the New York Rangers hockey team. Each trying his best. A never say die attitude; that even if they never win the Stanley Cup should at least gather a cup full of admirers.

Up in North Russell Street Stadium fifty thousand ballplayers of all sorts, sizes and ages take part in a ball game when time and weather is permits. There are no grownups running their games and they appear to be having a "ball". Oh, there appears now and then slight arguments but they generally clear them up themselves.

If you happen to be driving up in this neighbourhood please take it easy because its very difficult to choose even sides if you only have forty-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine ballplayers.

Last Simday afternoon while the play-off hockey game was on there was still quite a few ballplayers out in the stadium playing ball. Why, no - Boston was ahead 5-1 and seemed to have the game under control. When it was announced the score was 5-5 with ten minutes left in the game the little ball field emptied like water out of a tap. "There is nothing like "closeness" to keep a family together".

Wished I'd Said That Department: "People like porcupines are not dangerous unless you rub them the wrong way".

Something I Can't Figure Out Department: "Why I have to pay four dollars for a dog tag just so I can keep my dog chained to a post."

I know the bylaw says so but what is the reasoning behind it. I can see chaining my dog but why should I have to pay four dollars to do so. If I buy a licence for my car it means I can drive it on public highways. This I can understand but a licence for my dog??? How many cats have tags? What about all those voldfish in bowks and acquaitums?

all those goldfish in bowls and aquariums?

Cat and fish - lovers don't interpret this incorrectly. I like cats and fish equally as well but . . .

A Tale Worth Retelling:
Once there was a father who had three sons. One day an accident happened that concerned the father and his three sons. Apparently one of the sons had pushed the father's tool shed into the Tipsy River. When the father questioned his three sons as to who did this wicked deed he received a negative answer from each. So he proceeded to tell the famous story of Ceorge Washington and the cherry tree. How, when guestioned about the cut-down cherry tree, George had admitted that he had cut it down. For his honesty George was praised. After completing this ancient tale he again guestioned his three sons as to who pushed the tool shed into the Tipsy River. This time the youngest son admitted his guilt. The father at this point became furious and beat his youngest son black and blue with his belt. Crying with pain the youngest son questioned why he received

Crying with pain the youngest son questioned why he received such a beating when George Washington was praised for his honesty. To this his father replied, "George Washington's father wasn't in the cherry tree."

So as far as disciplinary action is concerned it's not "what" you do that is important but "who" you do it to.

I hope the stories in the last two columns started you thinking about funny and embarrassing things that happened to you in the past What appeared as a great tragedy in your youth can now be looked upon as very amusing.

Of all the things you worried about last year, what percentage actually happened? That should tell you something.

As it says, "Mostly about something but not necessarily"

WEDDING BELL'S and SAD DADS

Many of the old faithfuls have read the column since the time-my daughter first burped and covered the old man's shirt with baby-spew. And they have associated, and laughed and cried as I described the peculiar creature that I produced. With a little help from my wife, of course. I feel it only fair to the old faithfuls to keep them up to date. Anyone who is not interested can turn to Ann Landers or Billy Graham or somebody who writes about something important.

Kim is getting married. Normally, this is an occasion of great hilarity, geniality, joylatity, and sometimes even spiritually.

Personally, I think she's outperformed amount among parents. So everything is proceeding normally.

Today, I came home and found my wife surrounded by income tay forms and samples for material to cover one of our chairs. Normally, I wouldn't be surprised by this. It's a typical. But it's not exactly the pre-wedding hysteria one might her wedding shout ten days away? She's in the city with her boyfriend, looking for a second-hand van in which they can eat and sleep and have their being during the auramer. And the honer riong, I flinch, expecting to hear a police officer telling the hear a police officer telling the hear a police officer telling to hear a police of the policy of the policy of the policy of the policy though you'd never believe it when we have our annual party. And you'd enjoy the reception even more, with Kim's cat and ours flying into a screeching, spitting, squalling fight every three minutes.

One of the biggest ordens of course, ia meeting the future in-laws. We got through that least Sunday, and it went off fine. The kids salt nervously bitting their nails up to the knuckles, as they watched it.

Dot, a sensible person like myself and I got along fine. She accepts life as it is, and does something about it. She'll

Fifty Years of Power

In January 1922, electricity flowed for the first time from Ontario Hydfo's original Sir Adam Beck-Niagara generating station, six miles downstream from Niagara Falls. Just past its fiftieth anniversary; the plant is still an integral part of the power supply in Ontario.

When it was built, the station was the most ambitious development of its kind ever tackled, and for years it remained the largest hydro-electric plant in the world. Over twelve miles of canal were dug to carry water from the headworks above Horseshoe Falls to the plant, and much of the work involved steam-driven or Most of the plant still operates at the old 25-cycle frequency, supplying local industries that didn't change over to 60-cycle in the 1950's. A second Beck plant, on the falls side of the first, was opened in 1954.

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(By BEV. BROWNING)

Sunday is Mother's Day. You know — the day that she doesn't have to do any housekeeping, breakfast in bed, and maybe dinner in some swanky restaurant. And all those gifts of appreciation flowers from Dad, a new pop record from teenage daughter and "Mom may I borrow five dollars", from teenage son. Oh, a glorious day of being waited upon and of relaxation.

Ah, eheer up, Möther. That teenage son or daughter will soon be old enough to get married and raise his or her own family. Then they will experience the joys of parenthood. The broken hours of aleep to quiet a crying baby. The hours of sleepless nights tending s sick infant who cannot understand why he or she feels that way. Oh, they will be trained like you were. Trained to be concerned over their well being. They will learn to worry, to love, to hate and to be fair.

It is foo bad some temagers of today who feel their parents.

all fairness, Mothers, some of you are too concerned while no mockey, ball, soccer, and their are responsible, (2) to refer an ris may be at the other end of the scale of being too unconed. Story Worth Retelling: A mother once had five-year-old twin boys. One was too much of an optimist while the other was too much of a pessimist. So she went to her family doctor for advice. All she wanted was them evened up a little. The doctor told her to put the pessimist into a room filled with every toy imaginable. While the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but the optimist.

All she wanted was them evened up a little. The doctor told her to put the pessimist into a room filled with every toy imaginable. While the optimist should be put into a room with nothing but a box of horse manure and a spoon.

So the disturbed mother tried this remedy. After leaving the boys in their respective rooms for an hour, she decided to check the results. The pessimistic son was still complianing that his broker had more than he had. When she checked her optimistic son, she found him digging through the horse manure with spoon. As he dug he kept saying, "With all this manure their must be a pony in there somewhere."

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(By BEV. BROWNING) _ week I try to write a column that is mostly about some ing, but somehow I feel this column will be the "not necessari." So if you want to browse through the front page again, I' derstand.

Usually part of my column is dedicated to child safety. But this can' be boring since you know how to raise your children safety. But this can' be boring since you know how to raise your children safety. But you won't mention that June 4-10 is Water Safety Week. I'm not even going to tell you that of the 360 people drowned in Ontario last year, 66 were children under the age of 12 who were left, "unsupervised." The reason I'm not going to mention these facts is because I would be spoiling your children's fun and I know you want them to learn through "experience." This weekend I also fell very strongly about firecrackers. Not the ones that are set off by adults or under adult supervision, but he small packages that children are allowed to buy and set off by themselves. Boy, they are lots of fun! Gives you a chance to use matches in a safe way. They also give a young person a chance to throw them at other young people just to see them run from the bang.

Well, the bang doesn't hurt at all. The fire and explosive powder can do damage though. Just this weekend I know of one small boy who had one thrown at him and it burned through his shirt, undershirt and left a burn on his chest. Now that's what I call "fun". We haven't had a human sacrifice in a long time. Should Trecrackers be banned except under adult supervision? I guess I'm just wasting my breath so I won't mention these feelings either. Why spoll the "fun" these boys and girls are having: Fun, fun, fun.

Cut-down Department: I have a lot of little friends that range from the ages of two to seven. After studying these little charac-ters I've come to the conclusion that to these little people a fam-ily consists of a father, mother, brothers and sisters.

ily consists of a father, mother, brothers and sisters.

For example six-year-old David (maybe he's seven now) was over the other night to help me plant flowers. Not seeing my wife, Evelyn outside helping me he asked me if my "mother was in the house". Boy did that make me feel "young". But like all good things they only last a short time. Just yesterday, six-year-old Tim from next door returned my sunglasses to my wife and told Evelyn they belonged to her "father". Suddenly I feel "old" again.

Well everyone has probably had a good feed of pickerel by now. I wonder how many of you adults remember the first fish that you caught. I suppose that fish has sure grown in length with the time that has passed. Well my first catch hasn't grown inly. In fact I rarely mention it. Maybe it would be wise not to mention it, but I'm going to anyway.

mention it, but I'm going to anyway.

Remember those "good old days" when a fishing pole consisted of a small limb off a tree with fish line wound around the end. It made, it very difficult to cast with this make of pole but it made fishing in a narrow creek just right. It was with this fancy pole that I caught my first fish.

pôle that I caught my first fish.

When I was about twelve years old I used to fish in a small creek just about three miles east of Stirling. I was by myself this warm, summer day sitting on the bank with line, hook and worm dangling in the water. After a short time Pfelt a tug' on my line. Thoughts went through my mind that would astound the best of fishermen. What if it was too big to carry home? Maybe I'd have to fight this fish for an hour or so. Ten seconds later my questions were answered. There on my hook dangled a flipping, little, four inch fish. But the most besuitful fish I had ever seen.

ping, little, four inch flah. But the most besulful flah I had ever seen.

I soon had it unhooked and tossed it gently back in the long grass along the bank. Thrilled at my catch... words couldn't describe the thrill. I was forn at this moment between continuing fishing and going home to show the family my first big fish. Well, I decided on the former idea. After an hour of fishing found to my sorrew that I had caught the only fish I was going to catch that day. So I decided to pack it up and return home with my first catch. To my dismay however, I couldn't find my fish. I searched and searched through that grass but it had disappeared. Now, nobody would believe me. It would only be just another fish story as far as my family was concerned.

So with a heavy heart and a tear in my eye, I trudged home It was sometime later that I discovered that my prize eath was a "sunfish." Not worth eating. Not even worth mounting. So if you visit my place I won't be able to show you my mounted catch In fact I won't even mention it.

But I still wonder where it disappeared. Ah, so much for the mysteries of life. To this day the only fish I catch are sunfish and rock bass. I'm doormed.

Thank you Mr. Weatherman for a pleasant, sunny, warm redeemd. I forgive you for the late spring. It was beautiful weather for barbecuing even if the neighbours and relatives give advice on how to barbecue. It was also great reather for planting flowers which will probably conk out before eather for planting flowers which will probably conk out before

LET'S PLAN THIS THING TOGETHER

The Ontario Government needs your help to plan the future development of the Lake Ontario Region — the counties of Durham, Haliburton, Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Northumberland, Peterborough, Prince Edward and Victoria.

At a public meeting on June 1, Provincial Treasurer Darcy McKeough will release an analysis of the growth potential — and the related problems — in the eight counties.

Following this Report, we will want your opinions and views on how your Region should be developed so that people and government can work together to create the kind of place where you will want to live ... and work ... and enjoy life.

Come and be part of a planning process.

NOTICE VILLAGE OF MADOC

At the request of the Council of the Village of Madoc, the Ministry of the Environment has under construction within the Village a sewage works project, which is partially completed, to be owned by the Province of Ontario, consisting of sewage treatment facilities adequate to provide sewage treatment facilities adequate to provide sewage collector system within the Village and a trunk sewer to convey sewage flows to the treatment facilities at an estimated cost of $2.0,242. For services provided from these works, it is proposed to impose a service rate of 36 cents per 1,000 gallons of sewage accepted from the municipality. cipality.

The project consists of the following works:

- Sewage treatment facilities.
- The installation of a trunk sewer to convey wastes from the now existing collector system to the sewage treatment facilities.

It is proposed to raise the necessary annual reventhe services provided from the Provincial sewage works of domestic users of the system and a surcharge of not than 88.4 per cent on the water bill of commercial and ustrial users of the system. In instances where there ustrial users of the system. In instances where there is connection to the existing sewage works but there is connection to the water works, the charge for sewage vice normally recovered by the water bill surcharge is be recovered by the imposition of a foot frontage rate 63.9 cents per foot per annum on the owners or occutist of such land. This foot frontage rate does not reduce climinate any other frontage rates imposed on propersifor sewage or water works.

On the basis of this levy, a home connected to the r works, would pay annually the following charge the proposed sewage works have been built and ection made:

A home not connected to the water works would pay ollowing charge annually after the proposed sewage size constructed and connection made:

66 foot frontage at 63.9 cents per $42.17

It should be noted that these charges are higher in those-advertised for the same proposed sewage works september of 1969, since the actual cost of construction higher than that previously estimated. The previous of for string works per 1,000 gaillons of care accepted from the municipality. The typical home pages accepted from the municipality. The typical home

- A property connected to the water works system 61.06 per cent surcharge on water bill of $44 is $26.87.
- foot frontage at 40.7 cents per foot is $26.8

Any catchayer may within twents one days after one publication of this notion send to person these to large of the Visage of Mador at the addisons con-cerning to making stating the objection to the en-point of the increased sewage rates.

REPLACEMENT GILTS (J. R. Dalrymple, Swine Specialist, Brighton)

Many producers who raise their own replacement gilts often have difficulty getting these gilts bred. In some cases the gilts do not appear to be showing symptons of heat. Part of this problem may be associated with the close con-

Thement approximately a syrft-pig under which market hogs are raised. Housing gilts in small pens or tethering may retard sexual development as well as reduce the intensity of estrus. It is recommended that gilts not be tied up until after they have had one litter. Gilts to be retained for breeding purpe es should be separated from the market hogs at 150 to 180 lb. and allowed considerably more space - approximately 20 sq. ft.

Moving gitts to a different continuous of the barn, allowing gitts to run outside or the inroduction of a service age nour will often start gitts cycing normally.

Don't allow gitts to become excessively fat. This will reduce

Most gilts reach puberty

ANNOUNCEMENT

INFRARED, FRIENDLY SPY

A military secret of two world wars is used by Ontario Hydro to spot weaknesses in its transmission

Thermography—detection of objects by reading their heat with infrared sensors—wasn't released for non-military use until the 1950's. In wartime, infrared detectors located night-flying enemy planes and pin-pointed troops on the ground. Civilian and industrial applications have grown to include medical diagnosis, searches for people lost at sea, early detection of forest fires, and industrial process supervision.

Hydro's technicians use the detector to locate faults in lines and switches carrying electric current. The infrared scanner creates an image, not from the visible part of the spectrum, but from heat radiation. A loose or corroded electrical connection becomes a hot spot which appears white on the scanner's television monitor, while warm areas are gray and cold areas black.

Preventive maintenance using infrared delection equipment allows faulty parts to be found and re-placed before serious trouble develops:

MOSTLY ABOUT SOMETHING

(but not necessarily)

Scientists have given us many marvellous inventions such as automobiles, airplanes and rockets, television and radio and even the electrifu-teothbrush, Science has made wondrous advances in conquering feraded diseases such as diphtheria and small gox. Science has also taken man to the moon and back. This field of study has even been able to cross a potato with a sponge (if tastes horrible, but sure sops up a lot of gravy). With all this technical knowledge fhere is one thing that puzzles me. Why haven't seientists discovered a way to make black flies attack mosquitoes and vice-versa! That to me would be the scientific discovery of the century.

People sure like to give advice. Now take my mother-in-law (I yish somebody would) she likes to give advice on planting flywers. Just because she has beautiful flowers growing around her place is no reason to give an joid-farmer" like myself advice on how to plant flowers. (Well, if you call seven years of farming up old farmer). You just wait old, flower-growing mother-in-law, my flowers will grow if I have to take a whip to them (the old goes with the flower-growing. I'm too young to pass out of this world.

Pil have to excuse her though. She didn't know I had some farming blood in me. I lived on the farm when milking was done by hand, baters and combines were just in the experimental stage and horses outsumbered tracters. In a way, they were the good oid days! Lots of fresh air, amongs other things. Although small in frame, I could milk cows with the best of them and pitch . . . hay with the worst of them.

Now that I think back, I was "conned" into milking by my father. He said my wrists were too small to give me any strength for milking. But I showed him. I proved I could do it. I also showed my older brother. Boy did I show him. I had to get up every morning at five o'clock while he slept in until eight o'clock. (That's the last time I showed him anything).

But in all fairness be my older brother, I must admit he had (That's the last time I showed him anything).

But in all fairness to my older brother, I must admit he had to do all the heavy work. He did all the heavy slugging but he was no perfectionist at building a load of hay. I can remember one load of hay in particular that fell off the wagon three times before it got to the barn. The third time was within a hundred feet from the barn. I was after that third time that my father said to us — "there is the barn — inside the barn is a mow—when that hay is in the mow come and get me. I'll be in the 2008s."

So much for the joys of farming. As many farmers could tell you, a lot of amusing incidents happen during the work day. Well this story now means I have two people out to get even one my mother-in-law and the other my older brother. Even hough my brother outweighs me by a hundred pounds I'm more straid of my mother-in-law. I'll probably be planted in a flower ided by this weekend.

Mrs. Aleatha Woods is retiring come the end of June. Starting at White Lake in 1926, Mrs. Woods has taught at Hart's, Riggs Madoc Township and Madoc Public Schools. Except for a three year honeymoon, Mrs. Woods has taught for 43 years We wish Aleatha many relaxing and healthful years of retirement.

This Thursday night the Madoc Ladres' Softball team will test their skills and batting eye when they will play an exhibition game against the Tannery Girls. Game time is 8:15 at the Madoc Ballfield. So get out there and cheer for your favourite team.

Lost and Found Department — Sunday I met a guy searching for a ball meeting: Where, he did not know. So, if you see a guy firiying around town in desperation and you know where that meeting is, will you please let him know. I don't think his wife has seen him since Sunday morning.

Wished I'd Said That Department: People may be classified as "Wishbones", "Jawbönes" or "Backbones". Wishbones - wish somebody would do the job that they are supposed to do. Jawbones - Talk about doing the job but never get around to doing Backbones - roll up their sleeves and get the job done. Where do you classify yourself?

Nothing humorous happened this week. Since Bill Willemsen and family moved away it has been very quiet and my source and family moved away it has been very quiet and my source of humorous incidents moved any with them. Even little David from across the street and around the corner didn't have any gems of advice this week. So nothing is new in the world of wit and wisdom.

I expect to have another mouth to feed before the end of the week. I'm buying Sherri-Ann a canary for her birthday which was a couple of weeks ago. She just loves birds, and I figure by buying her a bird I'll save at least five trips to the Beamish Storp every week just to see the birds. I'm also purchasing a new barbecue. What's the connection? Well, if bird gets in the

it to the barbecue. We been doing a lot of introducing lately. I've introduced my to the shovel, hoe and lawnmower. There are some intro-tions that don't hurt in the least. (Just a few belated Mother's presents. The just full of little gifts like that. They can't is in making the heart grow fonder).

As it says, "Mostly about something but not necessarily."

For opéners, all of the branches of Loor ministry will work hand in hand with tourism at home and abroad.

We plan to add trade promotion and industrial development of tour new ministry by to the existing network of our tourism offices in Ontario. And the province's enlarged chain of trade offices in key countries.

We make a many offices working for example, have become big attractions does and resort motels which used to close on labor day, now slay open. Tourism in Ontario makes a particularly small tourism openent of tourism businesses. - through expanding at 12-month period.

Our minister and our staff well of course carry the good wind of our new ministry spour tourism offices in Ontario. And the province's enlarged chain of the reasons probaged he world will promote for trade offices in key countries.

We're also interested in helps industry and innovating our ministry side to close on labor day, now slay open. Tourism in Ontario make to close on labor day, now slay open. As I said, a lot's at stake.

And we have to do better -much better - despite growing challenges.

Today's tourist, for instance, we envisage sending our formation programs to not office that are highly successful with their tourism programs. Were going to find out to whom, but what our competition is and how we can overcome it profitably.

We plan to speak to key pla
